

Greater joy in giving than receiving: Dr Gururaj Karajagi

ANIL

CAMPUS: St Aloysius College (Autonomous) organised a motivational talk for the staff and students by Dr Gururaj Karajagi, founder and chairman of the Academy for Creative Teaching (ACT) Bengaluru, on 'how to be successful in life' here on Wednesday.

Addressing the gathering, Dr Karajagi said, "Success is a peculiar word. There is no formula for being successful. Everybody wants to become successful in life without knowing what success is. It is better to know first what success is not, than defining what success is. Success is not about money. Richness in itself is not success, because no one remembers the rich after a while. Physical fitness is not success. Fame is not success. Today's hero no.1, becomes zero no. 1 after few decades. Success does not even come from power and position, because they are temporary."

Students interacting with Dr Karajagi

Dr Karajagi, sharing some of his personal experiences with the former president of India Dr A P J Abdul Kalam, said, "Dr A P J was a successful man because he was a man down to earth. He was a star on the ground reachable to every person."

"One becomes great and successful by giving and not by receiving. If Dr Kalam is remembered by every Indian today, it is because of what he gave to the nation. There is a great joy in giving and sharing more than the joy in receiving. Success of a person is measured on what people remember and cherish about him," Dr Karajagi added.

Dr Karajagi was felicitated by Dr (Fr) Praveen Martis SJ, Principal of the College.

Dr Ishwara Bhat, co-ordinator of student activities and Dr Saraswathi Kumari were present.

District Congress holds protest

DAIJIWORLD

UDUPPI: Members of District Congress Committee on Tuesday, September 18, staged a mass protest condemned the BJP government led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi and demanded a Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) into the Rafale deal.

A rally which commenced from Tiger circle Manipal-Syndicate circle and end up at DC's office Rajathadri Manipal was carried out "None of the promises of PM Modi are fulfilled.

The value of rupee is decreasing in the global market.

Guest lecture on agriculture

PRINCY

MANGALORE: The PG department of Economics organised a guest lecture on Wednesday on the topic 'Agriculture and Allied Sections an Economics Perspective'. The resource person was Dr Shivakumar Mangada, head of the department, Economics, Krishi Vigyan Kendra, Mangalore.

The speaker said that the motive behind his lecture was to create awareness among the youth to get into agriculture profitably. "The flourishing of agriculture has reduced drastically because of the lack of importance given to agriculture.

Dr Mangada interacting with students at SAC

If the rural people are provided with more awareness on different aspects of agriculture it would definitely help them to build their future as well as the agricultural field to develop economically," Dr Mangada said.

ED files one more case against D K Shivakumar

DAIJIWORLD

MANGALORE: D K Shivakumar, water resources minister of Karnataka is in trouble again. Enforcement Directorate has registered a FIR against him for possession of illegal currency to the tune of Rs eight crore in a flat in the city.

Shivakumar, who heaved a sigh of relief on Saturday, September 16 for having secured a bail from the special court of economic offences, is facing the possibility of an arrest in this fresh case registered by the ED.

In addition to Shivakumar, FIR is also registered against Anjaneya Hanumant, staff and Rajendra, former staff personnel of Karnataka Bhavan in the city.

Income Tax (IT) department had registered four cases against Shivakumar and others for evading tax with regards to the illegal currency that was found in a flat in the city. However, the court had granted conditional bail to all the accused "We are ready to face any inquiry. We have got all the documents.

We are ready to answer the questions of the ED within the framework of law," said D K Suresh, MP and brother of Shivakumar. n these four cases.

'Thaulovothsava' in December

SHEMA

MANGALURU: Tulunadu Rakshana Vedike (TRV) will organise 'Thaulovothsava', a two-day variety programme in December on the occasion of its 10th anniversary in Town Hall, Mangaluru.

Addressing the press conference here on Tuesday, Prashanth Bhat Kadamba, convener of the programme said, "To mark this occasion we are planning to honour people from different professions for their achievements and contributions towards Tulunadu.

We are expecting around thousand Tulu people from all over the world participating in

Leaders swapped highest amount of banned notes

THE WIRE

NEW DELHI: Data accessed through Right to Information has revealed that leaders of country's top political parties – BJP, Congress, Nationalist Congress Party and Shiv Sena various programmes like Yakshagana, clay modeling, exhibition, and Tulu drama."

"We have arranged a competition for the public to design the emblem of 10th anniversary of TRV.

Interested persons can register their names by October 5, 2018. Prizes will be awarded for the winners on the basis of their creativity," Mr Kadamba informed.

TRC is an organisation established in 2008 which works for the promotion and protection of Tulu language, culture, tradition, folk and land, a press release issued by the organisers stated.

– head the ten banks that exchanged the maximum amount of banned currency during demonetisation, Indian express reported. Leaders of Top Parties at Helm of Co-op Banks That Swapped Highest Amount of Banned Notes.

Students visit Sneha Sadan; interact with inmates

ANNETT

MANGALORE: As part of an outreach programme, the students of SAC postgraduate (PG) ladies hostel visited Snehasadan, Kinnikambla, on Sunday.

Snehasadan, a rehabilitation centre for individuals with HIV, functioning for about 8 years in Mangalore, houses around 38 children of different age groups. The PG students put up an interesting array of entertainment programmes.

After a continuous hour of interaction with the children of Snehasadan, there was a visible gleam of happiness on the faces of the little children. Breaking the notion of having to keep a distance from HIV affected beings, the PG students interacted well with the children in a way they would not feel left out.

"The visit aroused awareness and brought insight, changing the perspective of the societal preset ideas everyone had, on HIV," said Helen, a student of I PG.

As a set of people with not apt knowledge in the area of how to be dealing with these groups of kids, more than half of those who visited the institution for the first time assumed HIV was a dreadful disease and the people affected by it were those of whom one had to keep a safe distance from.

PG Students at snehasadan

Director of the care home Fr Teji Thomas said that HIV was just any other virus which spreads through saliva and blood alone, which is nothing to be afraid of.

"Most of those admitted at this care centre are either orphans or have been rejected from their homes. These children are innocent and in spite of it not being their fault, they still have to pay the price of having to carry the burden of being an HIV patient and are often abandoned on the streets and rejected by their own families," said Fr Thomas.